

contemporary architecture

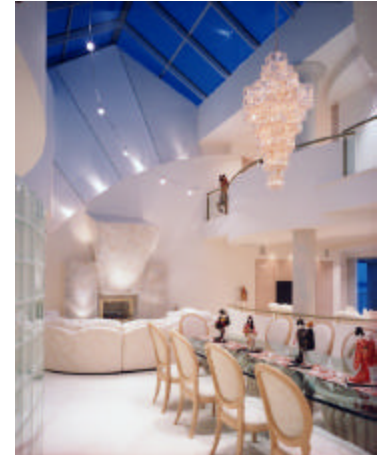

Contemporary architecture offers opportunities for home design unbounded by tradition.

Yesterday's houses were designed to isolate man from the harsh environment. Today's materials and technologies make transparent enclosures of space possible. Diminishing the transition between exterior and interior allows a marriage of home and environment in ways heretofore impossible.

GMK
architecture inc.

GMK has enjoyed collaborating with our clients who have chosen to explore and create a contemporary expression of home. We look forward to the new challenges of this exciting exploration.

